STOLE A MILEAGE.

[Special to the Journal.]
NORTHFIELD, Jan. 9.—James Sullivan of NORTHFIELD, Jan. 9.—James Sullivan of the Center village was arrested by Officer Hutchinson last night. About a year ago young Sullivan hired a mileage of Fred Dutton and instead of returning it he sold it to a broker in Boston. Sullivan gave Constable Holden the slip by running out of the back door of his father's house and secreting himself somewhere on the premises. Policeman Hutchinson was notified and put on his trail and after something of a chase succeeded in landing Sullivan in jail. He will have his hearing today. This is his first visit to town since he departed with the mileage in his possession.

IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 .- During the legislative session of Tuesday the Senate had under consideration the much mooted canteen question, in connec-tion with the army reorganization bill. The Senate committee in effect restored the provision for a post exchange or canteen, which had been stricken out of the bill by the House. For nearly five hours the Senate discussed the committee amendment but a vote upon the proposition is not in sight.

In response to the arguments ad-vanced by Mr. Sewall and Mr. Money in favor of the post exchange Mr. Gallinger directed attention to the system in the navy. Under the law the sailors were given five cents per day in addition to their pay in lieu of grog rations. This had been found to be an excellent system and probably it would be well to apply to the army.

By a vote of 165 to 102 the House to day accepted the reapportionment plan proposed by the Burleigh bill which increases the membership of the House during the next decade from 357, the present membership and the membership proposed by the committee, or Hopkins bill, to 396. The result was largely brought about by the influence of certain Senators from several of the larger Northern States who threw the weight of their influence into the scale in favor of the larger membership.
Reppesentative Jenkins of Wisconsin reported to the House a bill agreed upon by the judiciary committee designed to correct some of the abuses under the Chinese exclusion.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The slow progress of the Senate debate on the army reorganization bill is alarming the friends of that measure. It was hoped a vote would be reached today but it now looks as though the bill would go over until next week or longer. There is danger that it will be antagonized by appropriation measures. The fight against the bill is made by senatorial friends of volunteer officers who are not given an equal chance with the regulars in the proposed enlarged army. Washington, Jan. 11.—Considerable progress was made Thursday by the senate with the reorganization bill, but the final vote upon the measure seems to be as far off as ever. The day's proceedings were characterized by several sharb collegus, some of which were of a decidedly personal character. On the desk of Senator Gallinger of session of the Senate lay a bunch of peautiful roses sent by friends as a tesimouial to his efforts to secure the abolition of the canteen in the army. Mr. Vest and Mr. Rawlins announced they had been detained unavoidably from the Senate Wednesday when the vote upon the canteen question was the abolition of the canteen.

Only fifteen votes could be mustered in the Senate in favor of the canteen, while 34 were cast against it. Most of the time was occupied by Senators Teller of Colorado, Pettigrew of South Dakota, and Butler of North Carolina, who all opposed the adoption of the Senate committee's amendment which provided for the continuance of the Beyond disposing finally of the canteen question the Senate accomplished little and it seems doubtful whether a final vote upon the measure will be exached before Friday or Saturday. The section on which the vote was taken was as follows: "The sale of or dealing in beer, wine or any intoxicating liquors by any persons in any post exchange or canteen or arm transport or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States is hereby prohibited. The sec-retary of war is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect." The House considered the river and harbor appropriation bill. Little prog-ress was made. In a bill carrying such a vast sum for local improvements many are bound to be disappointed and considerable soreness outcropped in several places, the disappointed mem-bers refusing to allow any limit to be placed on the general debate. It extended throughout the day, but was seem ingly no nearer conclusion at adjournment than when it started. Mr. Burton, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, who is in charge of the bill, made an elaborate explanation of its provisions.

Nerve Influence

Is the subtle force which controls the different organs of the body. It makes them strong or weak, healthy or diseased, according as the brain and nerves are strong and vigorous or weak and diseased. Weak nerves cause headache, nervousness, neuralgia, indigestion, heart trouble and many other forms of chronic weakness. Make the nerves strong, the brain clear and active and the body will be healthy and vigorous.

"For some years I was troubled with nervousness and pain at the base of the brain. My head often felt as though it was in a vise and was being squeezed. I got so bad I could scarcely sleep at night and my heart would palpitate and pain me a great deal. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and grew steadily stronger until my trouble was entirely removed."

PEKIN, Jan. 10 .- Li Hung Chang is improving in health. Both he and Prince Ching balked at signing the joint note when they considered the question, until the court should be heard from again, explaining that the Emperor's edict directing them to put off signing prevented them from using the imperial seal until permission should be received. They said they hourly expected permission. It is known here among the Chinese that the extreme anti-foreign element is now in power and that the court favorites now advise the Empress Dow-

Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching both strongly urge the signing of the agreement and they believe their coun-sels must prevail. They have pointed out in the strongest possible terms that the very existence of China necessitates the acceptance of the terms of the powers and that failure on the part of China to sign may mean that as soon as the state of the weather shall make such a step feasible the allies will send troops over the country so that parts of New Hampshire at the opening of the the empire heretofore untouched shall feel the scourge of war.

PEKIN, Jan. 11 .- The suggestion of will be declined by the powers. It is said this important step is insignificant compared with the difficulties to be met with between the powers them-selves, whose clashing interests will have full play in the coming discussions. The United States proposal to shift the seat of the negotiations finds no favor in the European chancellories. WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 .- The proposition submitted by the President to transfer the negotiation of the questions of indemnity and revision of commercial treaties to some other place than Pekin was designed to facilitate the conclusion of the Chinese negotiations as a whole by separating those still requiring considerable deliberation from those already determined. As some of the powers do not look with favor upon this separation, and others hate to decide the question, the President has deemed it advisable to direct the diplomatic representatives abroad to cease to press the proposition and so to inform the governments to which the proposition was addressed. At the same time, desiring above al else to avoid delay in the progress of the negotiations the President has directed Mr.Conger to urge forward their completion at Pekin.

Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in One Minute. If a woman is afraid to decide about her own style, let her get an artist to tell her what it is, and what she can wear to the best advantage, says the Ledger Monthly.

Having ascertained her style and the colors she should wear, then she should never deviate from them. She must strengthen herself to ignore wonderful bargains in the wrong styles and colors, and prepare herself even to endure a certain amount of monotony in her wardrobe. But her reward lies in being invariably well dressed and in having an air never to be acquired by sinking one's identity in the nondescript taste of the everage dressmaker.

A business woman is wise to select some one standard color that best suits her-say brown, or navy blue, or gray-and then, having bought the principal garments in this tone, to buy all others in harmony with it. It affords a woman a wonderful opportunity to appear smartly dressed on the least possible outlay. And it is remarkable how many pretty variations can be found to prevent any one solor scheme growing tiresome.

It is an excellent plan to begin this simple method of good dressing when girls are quite young. It cultivates their taste to a very great degree and enables them, as they grow up, to dress well with but little thought or money. What a wise precaution it would be to give every girl her own pin-money. however little, and teach her to self-reliant, for it is a sad fact that it is usually the woman who has the least ability to dress well who thinks most about her clothes, always struggling for effects, and doomed to failure; while the woman or girl who un-derstands herself, her style, color and the courageous art of selective shopping can get the largest returns for her time and trouble.

The consciousness of looking well is pretty sure to bring repose of mind and manner an attitude in which a woman is best calculated to meet the social and business world at her best.
